BULLETIN No. 25

OFFICIAL TRAIL RIDE JULY 30—AUGUST 2, 1931

THE route and date for the Official Trail Ride have now been definitely selected. The original route recommended at last year's Pow-Wow including a high line trail between Castle Mountain and Lake Louise has had to be postponed, as there are sections of this route which may not be completed in time. However, the alternative route which has been definitely chosen is very attractive, and in addition to traversing a little travelled country full of spectacular scenery will appeal to fishermen as there is trout fishing to be had most of the way. (see map on centre page spread)

Starting on July 30th from the Banff-Minnewanka highroad east of Bankhead, the first day's trail (12 miles) joins the Cascade River north of Stewart Canyon and follows the west side of the river to the first camp, which will probably be in the fork of Stoney Creek and Cascade River. The second day's ride (15 miles) follows the east side of Cascade River, passing through grassy slides which as a rule abound in elk, crossing Cuthead Creek and passing through the flowery Alpine meadows of Flint Flats till the second camp is reached below Block Mountain. Those who wish good fishing can take a side trip up Sawback Creek, where the fishing is excellent, particularly in Sawback Lake, provided the heat is not great—in which case the lake is apt to grow muddy from melting glaciers.

The third day's ride (15 miles) goes well above timber line over Badger Pass, commanding some of the most spectacular scenery in the Canadian Rockies. Here the trail drops down to Hiltz Creek under the snowclad face of Pulsatilla Mountain. Those who took the three day trail ride in 1926 will remember the night spent in camp here. The third day's camp, however, is farther on at the headwaters of Baker Creek, probably near Tilted Mountain. The fourth day's ride (10 miles) follows Baker Creek to its junction with the Bow River, near which the Pow-Wow will be held. There is excellent fishing on Baker Creek below the Canyon and the scenery is superb. For those and the late Dr. Charles Walcott wrote an interesting monograph on Tilted Mountain for the Smithsonian Institute.

Following on the official four-day Trail Ride, Pat Brewster, who is our chief guide and outfitter, is arranging a longer ten-day trail ride which should have a strong appeal for those who wish to earn more mileage combined with exceptional opportunities for fishing.

Leaving Lake Louise via the Pipestone, camp is made at Point Camp. A day layover is taken here while the party fish the Pipestone Lakes, the third day move up Little Pipestone and down to camp on tributary of the Red Deer River at which camp there is lots of stream and creek fishing.

who wish to make a longer ride on the fourth day, there will be ample time to make a morning trip to the Skoki Valley with its glacial lake of supreme magnificence and beauty.

Our President, Colonel Phil. A. Moore, Jim Brewster and Tex Wood all agree that the route proposed offers one of the most attractive four-day rides in Banff National Park—appealing particularly to the photographer and the fisherman. There is a great deal of big game in this territory, as it is off the beaten track and therefore a natural sanctuary for wild animals.

Mrs. Walcott has made a number of camping expeditions near the headwaters of Baker Creek,

Next day move down Red Deer River and up Scotch Creek to Harrison Lake on the Divide. A day for excellent fishing is taken here and then the party proceeds down Snow Creek and up Panther River over high pass (very beautiful) to camp on headwater of the Cascade River. From this camp proceed down to Flint Flats and up Sawback Creek to Sawback Lake. Lay over here one day for good fishing and then proceed over Gopher Pass to Mystic Lake, having the most of the afternoon to fish Mystic Lake and Mystic Creek. Last, or tenth, day follow down Forty-Mile River and cross over Norquay Pass to auto road one mile west of Banff.

DUDE RANCHING

If you happen to be anywhere in the vicinity of Kananaskis, Alta., and you see a human being, mounted on a horse, arrayed as Solomon in all his glory never dared to be and patrolling the landscape as though he or she owned it—that's a Dude.

If you ask him or her, he or she will probably inform you that he or she is from the Brewster Ranch; for while other estancias may be famous for their cattle and horses, "Mrs. Bill," otherwise Mrs. W. A. Brewster, is renowned throughout the foothill country of the great Canadian West for her Dudes, turned out each summer, humanized, horse-loving and of astounding health.

Nor does her fame stop at the Rockies or the edge of the Prairies, for those who pass through her kindly and capable hands come from the four corners of the earth. From the South and the East and the West and from across the seas they come; from offices, factories, counting-houses, and the many scenes of modern business life; all seeking the open air, all longing to ride, all in quest of "the wild and woolly west," and all with wardrobes that would move the Romeos and Juliets of the movies to envy.

And "Mrs. Bill," as she is affectionately called by all who know her, welcomes them, beds them down, feeds them, listens to the tale of their individual needs and aspirations and turns them over to her cowboys to be taught the rudiments of horsemanship.

Initiation into the Mysteries of Packing

She is an understanding soul, with the grace born of forty odd years of pioneering, in daily company of the two animals which of all the creation most need understanding—men and horses. To-day, with ready smile and twinkling eye belying the touch of grey in her hair, she is not only a daughter, wife and mother of pioneers, but true friend and mentor to half a hundred city dwellers who visit the Brewster Dude Ranch each year.

The Dudes have one main activity. They ride, but in riding they learn the lore of the corral, the ranch and the mountain trails. They learn how to pack horses, make camp, and the true meaning of a real appetite. They hold rodeos at which they can display their knowledge, and when they are seized with a desire to see beyond the mountains immediately in front they join the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies and enjoy the beauties of virgin mountain trails and camps.

They must be able to take care of themselves; to ride their horses across streams; to make their own beds, and in emergencies catch up and saddle their own horses. And they do, and afterward they write home about it and about the camp fires, and how hungry it feels while waiting for the coffee to boil, with the result that their brothers, sisters and buddies come rarin' into the mountains to do likewise. And they do. Thus every year the brotherhood of the trail grows in strength and during the winter months the songs of the evening camp fires are repeated in city homes, not only in this country but beyond the seas.

LAKE WINDERMERE CONTINGENT

Ready for the Trail

The annual contingent of young riders from the Lake Windermere Ranch Camp for Girls adds a note of special colour and charm to our Official Trail Ride, and we are looking forward to the prospect of another such contingent this summer. The leaders of this Ranch Camp, Dr. Harriet E. Cooke and Miss Mary Cutler, are both of them enthusiastic members of the Council of the Trail Riders and have secured for us a good many new members. All the girls who join the Ranch Camp are encouraged to go on trail trips, and those who are permitted to join the Official Ride are made to realize that this is their reward for interest in this form of exercise. The Ranch Camp itself is attractively situated on a peninsula running into Lake Windermere, which has water warm enough to make swimming a pleasure. There is a tennis court and archery is practised. One of the Counsellors is an accomplished musician and song leader, so that the evenings are never dull. Who of us can forget the sweet young soprano voice of one of these girls at the Pow-Wow held at Marble Canyon last summer? And how delightful were the bugle calls played by another of the girls at the Pow-Wow at Castle Mountain Camp the year before!

On the Trail the girls dispense with tent accommodation, as this would mean extra packhorses, but certainly look none the worse of sleeping "at the sign of the beautiful star."

In our last bulletin we reproduced a picture of Ruth

Sheldon of Tulsa, Oklahoma, who won the prize for the best dressed girl on the Trail Ride, who was one of the Lake Windermere contingent.

Lake Windermere Ranch Camp, according to the official booklet is primarily a Trip Camp, where each girl has her own horse for the Summer and rides daily. Short rides at first accustom the girl to her horse and the trails, and as she progresses these rides are lengthened to from three to five day camping trips with pack horses, guides and counsellors accompanying. Dr. Harriet Cooke, whose address is Marshall Field Annex, Chicago, Ill., will be glad to communicate with those interested.

The Late Professor Charles E. Fay

Those who were present at the Pow-Wow at Wapta in 1925 will remember the picturesque figure of Professor Charles E. Fay, of Tufts College, and the fascinating talk he gave on that occasation. In spite of his years (he was then verging on eighty), he came into Camp on that occasion after a long climb and hike which would have been a credit to any one fifty years younger. As a matter of fact, it was not till he was himself fifty years old that he took up the sport of Alpine climbing, but such was his activity that he founded both the Appalachian Mountain Club and the American Alpine Club. His memory is recorded in the Canadian Rockies by the names of Fay Mountain near Banff and Fay Glacier at Moraine Lake, one of the most picturesque breaks in the rocky range, visible as one walks along the trail beside the lake from the Bungalow Camp.

Professor Fay was the Editor of the magazines of the two Clubs which he founded, and in addition to his membership of the Alpine Club of Canada, was an honorary member of the Centro Excursionista de Catalina of Spain. At the International Congress of Alpine Clubs at Monaco a few years ago he was made an officer of the Order of St. Charles.

Professor Fay was keenly interested in the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, and was a delighted spectator of the musical entertainment "Round a Canadian Campfire" which a number of trail riders helped Alfred Heather's Light Opera Company to stage on the terrace of the Banff Springs Hotel last summer.
